Response to Amendment

1. In response to the office Action filed January 15, 2008, applicant has submitted an Amendment, filed March 05, 2008. Applicant has amended claim 1 and has added new claims 15-17.

Allowable Subject Matter

2. Claims 1-17 are allowed.

3. The following is an examiner's statement of reasons for allowance:

As to claim 1, there is no prior art reference, alone or in combination, that teaches or fairly suggests wherein the unstructured information omitted from the summary information of said entry, and is subsequently reformed and constructed in the form of the summary information for storing in the step (d), thereby enhancing completion of the knowledge base, as amended by the applicant.

Saito et al. (US PGPUB 2001/0042083) teaches using a key text extractor, that extracts data from a summary or abstract; and a whole text extractor, that extracts data from the entirety of the documents (paragraphs [0055]-[0056]).

Tafoya et al. (US PGPUB 2005/0108344) teaches a system for searching for terms and data from a plurality of documents (abstract). The system further determines if the information extracted from the document is already stored in the database (paragraph [0047]) and if so, not using the information (paragraph [0057]).

However, none teach or suggest wherein the unstructured information, from the body of the text, that is automatically extracted, is information that does not exist in the summary area of a document used for data extraction, and the extracted information is reformed and constructed in the form of the summary information for storing.

Claims 2-17 are allowed because they further limit their parent claims, which are allowed.

Any comments considered necessary by applicant must be submitted no later than the payment of the issue fee and, to avoid processing delays, should preferably accompany the issue fee. Such submissions should be clearly labeled "Comments on Statement of Reasons for Allowance."

Conclusion
